Introduction of the event: A one-day workshop on the topic of "Agro-Industries" was organized for students at Vidya Vikas Mahavidyalaya, Samudrapur. The aim of the workshop was to provide students with insights into the significance, challenges, and opportunities in the field of agro-industries. The workshop commenced with an inaugural session featuring a welcome address by Dr. N.S. Shirbhate, Head & Vice-Principal and Dr. S.D. Yeotkar, Assistant professor, Department of Botany, Vidya Vikas Mahavidyalaya, Samudrapur. Dr. Shashawati Mukharjee, a renowned expert in agro-industries, delivered the lecture. The speaker elaborated on the concept of agro-industries, its various components, and its role in transforming agricultural products into value-added goods. The session included real-world examples to illustrate the impact of agro-industries on local economies. Prof. M.S. Ambatkar, Head Department of Zoology proposed the vote of thanks.

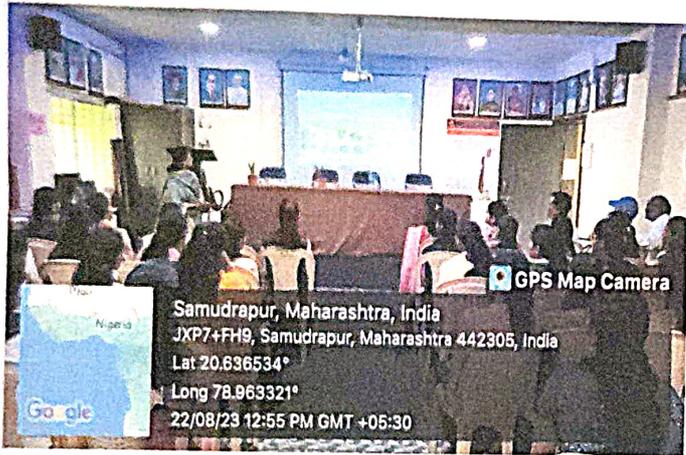

Objective of the event:

The objectives of the workshop are,

- To provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the concepts, processes, and components involved in agro-industries.
- To raise awareness among participants about the vital role that agro-industries play in economic development, food security, employment generation, and rural livelihood enhancement.

- To introduce students to the challenges and complexities faced by agro-industries.
- To provide a platform for students to interact with experts, professionals, and peers in the field, fostering valuable networking and knowledge-sharing opportunities.
